Inspiring Sustainability led discovery process which changed way this recycling technology business presented itself internally and externally, including facilitation of significant development of pitch deck which has gained considerable positive feedback

Max Beaumont, CEO:

“Working with Inspiring Sustainability on the Discover+Grow Programme really helped develop our marketing and growth strategy. We got a deeper understanding of our stakeholders, gained a clarity on where we should focus our marketing efforts. After this they guided and creatively adapted our website, one pager pitch deck and general market approach.”

Greg Lavery, MD:

“We’ve been working with Inspiring Sustainability for over a year and they are a trusted ongoing partner, offering advice and delivering key services for us, such as event design and management and leading the production of an explainer video which has had excellent feedback. I’m delighted to recommend them.” You can watch the Rype Office video here.
